Re: U.S. v. Microsoft

It is ironic that the FBI has moved to prevent Enron from destroying documents, yet Microsoft which was declared guilty by our Federal judiciary system has succeeded in invoking Constitution liberties which were intended for the sole protection of individuals against strong interests, to advance their own corporate greed.

Why is it that Enron is dirty rotten scum, yet Microsoft has somehow gained the confidence of the masses, that even Conservatives commonly believe that Microsoft is an example of the little guy who made it big.
